Art Unit: 1731

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11, drawn to a method of oxidizing carbohydrates, classified in class 162, subclass 72.
- II. Claim 12, drawn to an oxidized carbohydrate, classified in class 8.
- III. Claim 13 a method of preparing nitrosonium ion, drawn to a method of preparing nitronium ion, classified in class 435.
- IV. Claim 14, drawn to an absorbant product, classified in class 428.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Group II could be made by other processes, such as by oxidizing the carbohydrate with oxygen gas, the method steps of claim 12, can not be given probative weight in a product claim.

Inventions I and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product of claim 14 can be made by different processes, such as trating a paper pulp with sodium hydroxide mixed with ozone gas.

Art Unit: 1731

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of claim 13 could be used for different processes than the oxidizing a carbohydrate, such as a pulp additive for improving the pulp yield of the pulping process.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II, II and IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Equations I of claim 5; Equations II of claim 5; and the equation of claim 6. These are all different species of nitroxyl radical mediators.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: LPO; MPO; EPO and TPO (claim 8.). These are all different species of peroxidase enzymes.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for each of the mediator and the enzyme for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
